Drawer sessions are posted without having been manually counted or reconciled

Summary:

Can active drawer sessions be posted in NCR Counterpoint or using the scheduled task for Point of Sale posting without counting or reconciling?

Performing end of day posting on drawer sessions which have not been counted or reconciled.

Solution:

If a store is configured to allow auto-count and auto-reconcile, then it is possible to post active drawer sessions without counting or reconciling them manually first. This can also be done using the automated task for posting tickets using a "Y" for the active drawer parameter of the scheduled task for Point of Sale posting.
